Mr. Dulles:

STAT

[] called you from San Francisco.

STAT

(I remembered her being an old friend of []

I told her you were doing some work in Washington and she then asked for any partner at S&C.

STAT

I spoke to [] about the call and he agreed to talk to her.

He later said that the connection was very bad and he only heard about every third word and he didn't think she was very rational, but [] wanted word passed on to you that she had almost certain information that the Philippines [I believe that was where she and her brother became acquainted with [] was one of our worst enemies and it had great power to injure the U.S. The Chinese and Indonesians are influencing it.

STAT

She said she was both openly and before that secretly in the intelligence service of the U.S.

She said something was going to happen in the Philippines that would be to our disadvantage - almost worse than Valley Forge.

She wanted her brother contacted, who is an army officer, and also someone contacted in the State Dept.

STAT

[] handled some matter for her back in 1947, but he is away for a week. We don't have her address because last correspondence was addressed to her at Women's National Republican Club here and Hotel Willard in Wash.

However, from correspondence it appears that [] keeps her papers and they must know her address.
